The most comfortable sleeping experience possible: that's what we had in mind when we created this pad for YOU! We tested this 3-inch-thick camping mattress in forest, in deserts, on mountains, in rainy conditions and in snow, and we found this self inflating mattress is perfect for all terrain types! Designed for side or back sleepers, you won't wobble or bottom out no matter how you like to rest - no more backpain or annoying discomfort from rocky terrain.

Many hikers struggle with getting good sleep in the wilderness, even when their bodies are completely exhausted. That's one of the reasons why owning a top-notch sleeping pad is essential. Sleeping pads provide the comfort your body needs for getting a good night's rest. Without a good night's rest that refreshes your mind and body, you may be tired, irritable and have a less than an awesome day. When you're on the road, energy is everything.

Comfort Above All: This Insulated Self Inflating Sleeping Pad sets itself apart with an innovative foam frame, that perfectly combines the high-loft comfort found in the foam mattresses and the compressibility of air pads. Frankly, the most comfortable camping pad you will ever sleep on.

Made To Last: The laminated 20D Rip-stop Nylon and the TPU Layer are Waterproof, Abrasion/Tear Resistant and they provide a good balance between a lighter weight and durability.

Posh Design: At 3" thick, this pad offers both plush thickness, generous size and increased warmth. Great for those that move a lot while sleeping, want the most support, or plan to sleep in cold weather. For extra cushion you can add 2-3 extra breaths.

Thermal Resistance: But there is more than just comfort, with a 9.6 R-Value this Camping Pad is perfect for keeping your body warm during those COLD NIGHTS! The pad also has a preposterous warmth to weight ratio and a more durable bottom layer of fabric, making it clearly one of the best pads on the market.
